If ever the world needed music and songs like this, it is now! White Sun has teamed up with Samuel J to bring us a moving opus of truth. The soft percussive beat and choral vocals, plus the lyrically brilliant song construction, all go to make up one of the most relevant and pertinent compositions of the year so far.

Behold The Light as a song has an anthem like structure, its words will inspire and lift up its listeners. The arrangement is one that will live in the hearts and minds of the open hearted for eons to come, perfectly produced and lovingly performed; this is music of a new age created in bliss and out of love, and very easy to recommend.
