Pam Asberry's emotional musical constructs have been steadily growing over the past few years, and I truly believe that on this latest offering entitled Floating she has created a masterpiece of a single that will remain in the hearts and minds of the listeners for an age to come.

Floating is as close to film score material as possible, the careful build and progression in this composition is delightful to listen to, and the latter half of the track fulfils a musical narrative that is utterly empowering and deeply moving. A wonderfully fluent and majestic composition indeed and one the artist should be immensely proud of.
