Reflection is the current single of chart topping songstress Cadence Spalding and fans of her music and her style will be more than glad to soak up a little more of her quite breath taking compositional brilliance.

This could well be one of her most commercial compositions of all time, the vibrant percussive beat is extremely addictive too, one that contains the energies of a little global fusion into the weave of the arrangement as well.

The melody and chorus are just as addictive as ever, but the quite deliberate smoothness of performance here is simply magical to behold, and should if there is any justice in the world translate into another huge hit for the artist.
