

Island Dream

By

Fransoafran

Written by

Steve Sheppard

One of the most delightful singles from the New Age genre has now just passed my desk, and this glorious and colourful musical narrative by Fransoafran entitled Island Dream, soothes my senses like nothing before.

The artist has not only created something magical here, he has also produced a musical interpretation of Island Life with utter perfection and a sublime attention to detail.

The simply idyllic Bamboo Flute of Thang Tran, partners Fransoafran's enlightened efforts on his three instruments of choice, Violin, Viola and Vietnamese Gongs, and all to the poignant touches of a background of sweet natural sounds

Singles of this quality are a rare treat, and my delight is emphasised by the sheer pleasure I derived from listening to this new offering from the artist, if this isn't a huge hit, there is no justice in the world.