The latest single by KeithTim Anderson arrived on my desk with the freshness of a spring shower and with the energy of something new and delightful born into the world. We need more good music like Evermore, as here is a single that resonates with the word hope, and places a musical arm around the shoulder, to tell us all will be well.

The performance on this latest single by KeithTim Anderson is both beautifully played and with a vast amount of warmth too. The piano brings forth a delicate melody that slides into our hearts and minds and never leaves, an utterly charming composition indeed, and surely a guaranteed chart hit if there is any justice in the world.
